

System State Diagram

All identified states are measureable

A system state denotes that which is measureable / observable

In general, ask if this state is a "state of being?"

Every state has at least one transition

All allowable transitions are labelled

A single state is indicated as the default

Instructions

For each of the items above, place a checkmark in the applicable box if your SSD complies.

If some elements of the SSD is not compliant correct it before submission

Only submit SSDs for which all elements contain